BLAME WOMAN DRIVER IN '63 FATAL MISHAP

An Adams County coroner's jury Thursday afternoon found Miss Norma Lee Booker, Baltimore, at fault for the accident at Cross Keys August 11, 1963, in which Mrs. Sharon Taylor, of Downingtown, was fatally injured.

Miss Booker, on the advice of her attorney, did not testify at the inquest. Her statement made on the day of the accident to State Policeman Bernard Yanetti was read however to the jury.

Miss Booker was quoted as saying she was enroute from Hershey to Baltimore on the Hanover-York Springs Rd. at the time of the accident. She was traveling at 55 miles an hour, and was quoted as saying she saw the stop sign on the Hanover-York Springs Rd. at the Cross Keys intersection of the Lincoln Highway. She said her brakes failed to hold and her car continued into the intersection, colliding with an auto driven by Noel Taylor, now of New Oxford, then of Downingtown.

2ND STATEMENT READ

Miss Booker's statement said brakes of her car had been faulty from time to time and that she had had the brakes on the front wheels changed from self adjusting to manual adjustment and had planned similar changes in the rear wheels. She added that a parking lot attendant the day before had called her attention to the brakes.

Officer Yanetti also read a statement by Lorraine Washington, Baltimore, who had been a passenger in the front seat of Miss Booker's car, in which she said, "She (Miss Booker) tried to brake but I guess they didn't hold."

Noel Taylor, now residing with his parents in New Oxford, told the jury his last recollection on the morning of August 11 was leaving the home of his parents in New Oxford to go to the home of his wife's parents, near Abbottstown. His next recollections, he said, were events in the Hanover Hospital.

IN HOSPITAL 5 MONTHS

Taylor suffered a number of injuries. He was a patient in the Hanover Hospital 16 days, then in the John's Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore 133 days.

He was in a full cast for some time, remaining at the home of (Continued On Page 3)

ROUND TABLE GIVEN BASIS FOR CLEARING 'FIELD AREAS

Gettysburg's Civil War Round Table Thursday night had a view of the battlefield that has been unseen since a few years after the soldiers left.

On tour to view the areas where trees were removed from the battlefield during last winter, the Round Table heard details of the fighting on the second day of the battle here which formed the basis for the tree cutting.

Dr. Harry Pfanz, National Park historian in charge of the tour, explained that the cuttings made did not remove all of the trees from areas which were devoid of trees during the battle but only sufficient to allow a better understanding of how the fighting occurred.

READS STATEMENTS

That trees soon filled many areas that were open fields at the time of the battle was indicated by various quotations from writings and talks of men who fought here. The tour started from the Father Corby statue near the location of the 116th Pennsylvania Regiment on July 2, 1863. The statement of St. Clair A. Mulholland, one of the members of (Continued On Page 3)

Mrs. Kessel won the award with a lucky coupon in a Pepsi-Cola purchase. (Times photo)

Young Mother, With Track Experience, Seizes $385.56 Worth Of Food In 5 Minutes

Mrs. Carl Kessel, a 116-pound mother of two and a former track squad member, this morning proved that she is the most fleet-footed legal secretary in town.

Mrs. Kessel, the former Miss Shirley Heller, Aspers R. 1, raced through Kennie's Market at 8 o'clock this morning to grab $385.56 worth of meat, nylons and cleaning supplies in five minutes. She was the winner of the Pepsi-Cola Shopping Spree contest at Kennie's Market.

Dressed in slacks and sneakers, Mrs. Kessel appeared at the store a few minutes before the "8 o'clock whistle" to anticipate her prize-winning moves and, when the whistle was sounded she sprinted to the meat case where she scooped three large Armour hams and raced back to the check-out counter. Baskets are not permitted in the Shopping Spree pay-off and the winner must carry each armload of groceries back to the check-out station.

GETS CHOICE MEAT

Back to the meat counter Mrs. Kessel raced five more times for approximately 200 pounds of ham, pork tenderloin, T-Bones, sirloin, round and porterhouse steaks, and when the case was clean she attacked the rolled roast section, for a total of $188.82 worth of meat.

She raced for the frozen food case where in two trips she grabbed 17 packages of jumbo (fanta) shrimp, $32 worth; then headed for the coffee section for two cases of instant coffee, valued at $24. She next dashed to another corner of the store where she swept 65 pairs of nylons from the rack for a total value of $71.50.

Another long stride and she was back at the counter clutching eight gallons of laundry liquid valued at $21.50 and in two more trips racked up another $10 worth of smaller detergents.

As the announcer called the last three seconds of time, Mrs. Kessel's nimble fingers seized a large package of pinwheels for Eric, 4, and Valjoy, 18 months and three large bags of potato chips from a nearby rack for her husband, who was as nervous as a man could be under the circumstances.

Mrs. Kessel won the only Shopping Spree in the Gettysburg area when she found the right coupon in her Pepsi-Cola purchase a few weeks ago. Paul Hoover, co-owner of the store, said the average winner is able to scoop up $50 worth of groceries a minute, but he admits that most of them haven't had track training. Mrs. Kessel was a member of the track squad at Biglerville High School. She has been employed as a secretary in the offices of Atty. Eugene Hartman for the past 10 years.

And as store officials totaled Mrs. Kessel's "spree" she was breathlessly trying to get to the office by 9 o'clock!

Dulles Sees No Likely "Explosion" In Search For 3 Men; "Is It Hoax?"

By MICHAEL SMITH
PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Presidential fact-finder Allen Dulles says he doesn't see "any likely explosion" in this Deep South state over the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers.

U.S. sailors joined state and federal officers again today to comb this east-central Mississippi area for any clues to the trio, missing since last Sunday.

President Johnson ordered the sailors from the nearby Meridian Naval Air Auxiliary Station to join the search late Thursday. One hundred sailors teamed with FBI agents and Mississippi highway patrolmen to wallow knee-deep in mud through snake-infested swamps. Another 100 sailors were on standby duty at their base.

WILL BRIEF LBJ

Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 21, both of New York City, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, were last seen Sunday night when released from jail here after paying a speeding fine.

Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was expected to brief President Johnson today on his mission to Mississippi. Dulles returned late Thursday night to Washington after two days in this state.

During his term as governor McKeldin inaugurated the Maryland State Port Authority to take over management and promotion of the seaport of Baltimore and establish additional harbor facilities along the coastal waters of the state.

His gubernatorial administration was also noted for its establishment of a long range program for complete modernization and extension of the Maryland highway system; authorization of new state office buildings; adoption of home rule; financing and completion of the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel, the largest engineering project ever undertaken by the state.

Freak Blast Kills Six And Injures Ten; Snakes Freed

MARSHALLS CREEK, Pa. (AP)—A truck loaded with ammonium nitrate caught fire and exploded early today in this Pocono Mountain resort area, killing at least six persons and injuring some 10 others.

The blast, which left a crater 10 feet deep and at least 30 feet wide, eyewitnesses said, leveled the Pocono reptile farm and scattered dangerous snakes in the area.

The driver of the truck, Albert Kuda, of Port Carbon, Pa., working for American Cyanamid Co., Pottsville, Pa., told state police he had a flat tire which caught fire on Route 209 some three miles from here and he went to call for help.

DESTROY 3 TRUCKS

Three fire trucks from the volunteer Marshalls Creek fire station responded to the call and arrived just as the truck exploded, fire officials said.

All three trucks were destroyed in the blast and three firemen killed. Kuda was not injured.

Firemen at the scene, along with local and state police, tracked down and killed rattlesnakes, copperheads and cobras freed by the blast.

Windows were blown out in homes as far away as Stroudsburg, 10 miles away.

SHATTER HOMES

Homes in the immediate vicinity were shattered, doors blown off and windows knocked out.

William Paesch, 30, of Baltimore, Md., and his wife were in their station wagon just behind the truck.

"I saw flames and in no more than a matter of seconds I saw a large red glow and heard an explosion," he said.

His wife was killed in the explosion. Hospital officials said she died of an apparent concussion. Paesch was treated for cuts and bruises and released from Monroe County General Hospital at Stroudsburg.

OTHER DEAD

Other dead were tentatively identified as firemen Leonard Mosier, Earl Miller and Ed Heins. Also reported killed was John Regina, son of the owner of Regina Hotel. Scattered remains of another person were found.

The scene of the blast is in the northeastern Pennsylvania resort area.

MALES FOILED BY BABY, 3, IN TOPLESS SUIT

By RICHARD F. WHALEN
Associated Press Writer

The topless bathing suit for women is getting still more exposure across the nation, although it proved a disappointment to 200 expectant males in Oklahoma City.

Not so in Los Angeles, where fans, mostly male, crowded around a clothing store display window where a live model was wearing the suit Thursday.

Also attracted were two sheriff's deputies, who checked with headquarters and found that nudity was not enough for arrest; lewd behavior must be proved.

YOUNG MODEL

In Oklahoma City about 200 persons, mostly male, gathered at a housing project after a radio station announced that a pretty girl wearing a topless suit would arrive by helicopter.

She did, and there were some red faces.

She was blonde, blue-eyed Billye Rae, 3 1/2 years old.

Technically "topless" bathing suits were shown at a Detroit fashion show. However, it was a hair fashion show and the models appeared in waist-length hair styles resembling wide suspenders, Sam Browne belts and tie-back window curtains.

WAS SCRATCHY

It looked scratchy and one model said it was.

Hope Diamond took a dip in a Hartford, Conn., park pond in a topless suit, and was promptly arrested for indecent exposure. "I had a wonderful swim," she said, emerging into the arms of the law. Hope admitted the public exposure would not hurt her professionally. She's an exotic dancer.

POLICE PROBE 3 ACCIDENTS

State police were called to investigate three accidents Thursday afternoon and early this morning.

The car of Joan L. Hoover, 19, Hanover R. 3, was demolished when it ran off the Hanover-East Berlin Rd. a half mile from Abbottstown and struck a tree. Damage was estimated at $600. Miss Hoover was removed to the Hanover Hospital for treatment.

Flavius T. McKenrick, 66, Biglerville R. 1, suffered a laceration of the nose, abrasions of the chest and possible fractured ribs when his car went off the Lincoln Highway west of here near the Caledonia Drive-In theater and rolled into a seven-foot ditch. Damage to his vehicle was estimated at $1,200. He was removed to the Warner Hospital in Gettysburg for treatment.

Damage was estimated at $25 when two cars collided at the intersection of the road from New Chester and the New Oxford square at 4:10 o'clock Thursday afternoon. State police said a car operated by James Edward Davis, 24, Knoxville, Tenn., stopped for the stop sign. A car driven by Helena H. Weaver, 42, of 101 Carlisle St., New Oxford, collided with the rear of the Davis vehicle causing $5 damage to the Weaver auto and $20 to Davis' vehicle.

KC Anniversary Marked With Mass

REV. WOODS PRESIDES AT PRESBYTERY

The approval of ministerial calls and the examination of church occupation candidates occupied much of the afternoon and evening meeting dockets for the June meeting of Carlisle Presbyterian Tuesday at Hawley Memorial Presbyterian Church at Blue Ridge Summit.

The Rev. Joseph Woods, supply pastor at the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church and moderator of Presbytery, presided at the sessions. Two elders from his congregation attended, James U. Neely and Howard Knouse.

The Rev. Robert MacAskill, Gettysburg Presbyterian pastor, attended with Elder Paul W. Grove. Mr. MacAskill reported as a delegate to the recent synod meeting at Easton.

Great Conewago Presbyterian Church at Hunterstown was represented at the evening meeting by a member of its session, Hugh C. McIlhenny.

Over a 100 were in attendance, including 39 ministers and 45 ruling elders.

Miss Ruth E. Caldwell, Harrisburg, was endorsed as a candidate for commissioning as a church worker. For the past four years she has served the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association as its children's work director. She is an elder in the Great Presbyterian Church, Camp Hill.

Dennis G. Jacobs, a recent graduate of Yale Divinity School, New Haven, Conn., received approval of a call by the Millerstown and Perry Valley Presbyterian churches. His ordination and installation was set for Sunday evening, July 12, at Millerstown.

The Derry Presbyterian Church, Hershey, was authorized to borrow up to $200,000 for a $375,000 sanctuary and the Faith Presbyterian Church, Colonial Park, Harrisburg, permission for a loan up to $30,000 for a new manse.

Dr. Carson S. Wasson of Philadelphia Presbytery spoke on the plans of the Presbyterian Historical Society to erect a $750,000 center in the Philadelphia restoration area.

Plans were approved for a Presbytery Day function on Sunday, September 27, in the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church; for the setting up of an itinerant schedule among the churches for Dr. Peter Shih, pastor of the Chinese Church, Boston, Mass., from November 3 to 12; a Presbyterian-wide youth rally on Sunday, November 1, and a Prayer Retreat at the Silver Spring Presbyterian Church on September 10.

BERLINERS HEAR KENNEDY VIEWS

BERLIN (AP) — U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, does not enjoy widespread public support in the United States.

Kennedy, during a visit to Berlin to commemorate the first anniversary of his late brother's triumphant tour here, belittled Goldwater's standing.

Tens of thousands of Berliners lined the streets to cheer and wave to the attorney general.

A reporter's question on Goldwater, who opposed some of the late President John F. Kennedy's policies, prompted the attorney general to speak at length on the Arizona Republican.

"The conclusion that Goldwater has widespread public support in the United States is erroneous," he said.

Dr. Donovan F. Ward was named president-elect of the AMA at its national convention Thursday in San Francisco.

It's an office he cherished and for a reason.

"I don't want to destroy the relationship between the general practitioner and the specialist but I do want to strengthen the concept of the family doctor," said Dr. Ward, chief of the surgical section of Finley Hospital here.

FAMILY USED RADIOACTIVE SET OF DISHES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Philadelphia family of four learned Thursday that it had been using radioactive dinnerware for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Guberman and two children, Bruce, 19, and Susan, 11, discovered that the bright orange pottery they had been using would have been dangerous if they had been in continuous contact with it.

However, none suffered any harmful effects.

According to an official at the Nuclear Research Corporation in Southampton, Pa. where a soup bowl from the set was tested, the radioactivity comes from uranium oxide in the orange coloring agent.

The pottery emits 240 milliroentgens (MRS) per day, or 87,600 MRS per year. The Atomic Energy Commission's limit for workers in direct contact with radioactive materials is 5,000 MRS per year.

The Guberman's son, Bruce, a freshman at Temple University, learned about radioactive dinnerware from a friend, Cary M. Smiler, 18. Smiler said that another student brought an orange plate to school a month ago, and it was found to be radioactive.

The Guberman soup plate was then tested by a geiger counter at Nuclear Research.

ACTRESS MAILED MONGREL DOG

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gale Gilmore isn't sure how it happened.

She walked up to a Sunset Strip mailbox Thursday with a package to mail in one hand and her black and white mongrel puppy, Snipper, in the other.

"I got confused," she said. And she mailed the dog.

Gale, 21, blonde, and an actress, called the dog and cried. Someone else called the newspapers. A passerby called the post office.

"The postal authorities came," Miss Gilmore explained later. "A man in a uniform with a key. He opened the box, and there was Snipper, right down in the bottom. Some lady had dropped a letter on his head."

Snipper emerged without so much as a postmark, and Miss Gilmore got nothing more than a hard look from the postal authorities.

"If this was a Hollywood publicity stunt," said one, "it's the first time in Hollywood history that anyone has mailed a dog."

RACE ISSUE SLOWS NAACP

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to "democratize" the election processes of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was stalled on takeoff today.

Some delegates to the NAACP 55th annual convention said the effort, if successful, might end the 24-year regime of NAACP's 86-year-old white president, Arthur B. Spingarn, and bring a Negro to the presidency.

But a proposed resolution embodying the change failed even to reach a vote at a session of the Board of Directors late Thursday night.

The sponsor, L. Joseph Overton of New York, a board member, told reporters he intended to raise the proposal on the convention floor.

PORTAGE, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania Railroad crews worked to clear the PRR's mainline today of 16 twisted coal cars derailed when they broke loose from a siding near this Cambria County town Thursday.

SOUR CHERRY CROP MAY HIT 12,000 TONS

Pennsylvania's 1964 sour cherry crop has been forecast at 12,000 tons, the State Department of Agriculture said today.

Dewey O. Boster, director of the department's Crop Reporting Service, said this year's estimate compares with 8,300 tons harvested in 1963 and the five year (1958-62) average of 10,600 tons.

For the first time in several years trees escaped freeze damage during winter and early spring. Bloom was good and most orchards had a good set.

HEAVILY LADEN

Most trees are heavily laden with fruit. A few that bore heavily in 1963 will produce a light crop.

Trees in western and northern counties, particularly Erie, where frost damage was severe a year ago, will be producing a good crop.

The Crop Reporting Service said moisture is adequate in most areas for the proper sizing of fruit. The chief concern among growers was whether trees weakened by last year's freeze would be able to stand up under their heavy load.

Sour cherry production in the five Great Lakes states — New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin — has been forecast at a record high of 188,000 tons. This is 46 per cent above average and two and one-half times the 1963 crop.

TARIFF BILL BY GOODLING

Cong. George A. Goodling, of the Adams, York, Cumberland district, has introduced legislation proposing effective protection to American industry, agriculture and labor against increasing injurious foreign imports.

Goodling said that "more than 800 industries appeared before the U.S. Tariff Commission and the Trade Information Committee, objecting to the inclusion of their production items in the current GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) negotiations. Special representative for trade negotiations, Christian A. Herter, has agreed to negotiate for 50 per cent tariff reductions and give other tariff concessions on all trade items with a bare minimum of exceptions.

"Almost every major industry asked to have its products excluded from Herter's list of negotiable tariff items. In spite of this wave of protest, the United States negotiators at Geneva maintain a policy of negotiating for sweeping tariff reductions."

Congressman Goodling said his bill would prescribe levels of damage to industry, agriculture and labor employment under which a substantial portion of domestic production items would be excluded from tariff reduction negotiations.

SCRANTON AND BARRY "FIRST" BALLOTS SLIP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's first ballot strength slipped by eight votes this week and Gov. William W. Scranton's dipped by seven, an Associated Press survey of Republican presidential nominating delegates showed today.

Goldwater's current total of 686 is 31 more than the 655 needed to win the GOP nomination on the first countdown at the San Francisco convention opening July 13 if those who are personally committed to him or say they favor him stick with those who are bound to him.

Scranton, Pennsylvania Governor who is the Arizona senator's closest competitor, now has 131 first ballot votes, according to the AP survey.

TURN TO RHODES

Goldwater had been credited with 15 first ballot votes from the 58-vote Ohio delegation, but at a caucus earlier this week the delegates decided to support Gov. James A. Rhodes as a favorite son on the first ballot.

This surface loss of 15 votes for Goldwater was partially offset by a pickup of one in Florida and six in Tennessee.

Under the Ohio decision, Scranton lost 10 delegates who said they favored him on the first ballot. But he added two in New Jersey and another in West Virginia, making a net loss of seven.

ROUND TABLE

the regiment, at the dedication of its monument in 1889 was read. General Mulholland in his talk 75 years ago referred to the Second Corps men watching the Third Corps move forward to the Peach Orchard. "From where we (Caldwell's Division) lay," Mulholland said at the time, "the whole country in our front and far to the left, a way to the peach orchard and to Little Round Top, was in full view, the country not then being so grown up as at this day." Clearing of a section through the woods near the Weikert house last winter permits a glimpse of Little Round Top from the spot. However, the Peach Orchard is still hidden by trees.

Atop Little Round Top Dr. Pfanz showed the Warren map made a few days after the battle, which depicts wooded areas and cleared areas of the entire battlefield at the time. He showed where cuttings on Little Round Top and the area toward the Wheatfield had been made to permit the Wheatfield to be seen from Little Round Top as it was at the time of the battle.

He then gave an account of the disposition of Union and Confederate troops and the development of the fighting on the afternoon of the July 2 battle in the Little Round Top-Devil's Den-Wheatfield areas.

USED "GORGE" ROUTE

At Devil's Den the group used the bed of the old trolley line to walk through "The Gorge" and come up to Devil's Den from the south, as the Confederates did. As a result, the group was able to see the Devil's Den as Col. W. F. Perry of the 44th Alabama did on July 2, 1863. Quoted from Colonel Perry's report was "The enemy was as invisible to us as we were to them. The presence of battery of artillery (at Devil's Den) of course implied the presence of a strong support force of infantry . . . as our line emerged from the woods into the open space a sheet of flame burst from the rocks 50 yards away. A few scattering shots in the beginning gave warning in time for my men to fall down and thus escape the effect of the main volley."

Dr. Pfanz showed a picture taken shortly after the battle of rocks and a rock barrier made by the Confederates and pointed out the area south of Devil's Den depicted in the picture. The cutting restores part of the former "open space" between the woods and Devil's Den and "helps explain that Smith's Battery atop Devil's Den was not firing into trees, as it appeared when the heavy woods was here."

Atop Devil's Den Dr. Pfanz read excerpts from the reports of troops there which helped indicate the appearance of the area at the time.

GOING TO FREDERICK

The final stop was made at the Bucktail monument at the left of the Pennsylvania Reserves line along the wall of the Wheatfield. There some excerpts from report made by Capt. John P. Bard in 1890 at the dedication of the unit's monument, gave details of crossing an open space and coming into a woods along the line of the wall. The "open space" before the woods was cleared of most trees during the winter cutting.

Plans were made by the Round Table members to leave the GAR home, E. Middle St., on July 5 at 12 noon to attend programs marking the 100th Anniversary of the Battle of Monocacy at Frederick. The program will open at 1:30 p.m. July 5 with re-enactment of the $200,000 ransom payment there. After various programs the

The committee called for a report of the finance committee for the past two years to be sent to each committeeman.

Hawbaker, candidate for reelection, spoke on the recent action of the U.S. Supreme Court on the method of electing legislators. He said, "This is out of the field of the 'nine old men' who are appointed for life and are not subject to approval of the voters. 'Politics' is 'people.'"

Francis Worley candidate for the House of Representatives, urged the committeemen to "see that every voter is registered; that no one fails to vote; ratify the party's nominations at the election; keep the House Republican since the speaker of the house is chosen by members of the majority party in the house and this is a powerful office."

PUBLIC MEETINGS

Spence spoke of money collected several years ago as dues to establish a Republican Club. He was authorized to appoint a committee to study the matter and report at the next meeting.

Approximately 70 attended the meeting. The chairman said that meetings will be open to the press.

Young Steer Roped After Frisky Romp

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A frisky young steer led the big stampede through Mockingbird Valley Thursday night.

The hour-long chase by several policemen and 50 sticking residents from a golf course and onto suburban streets ended with a Western-style roping.

Then the 650-pound animal shook free and led the gang on a 90-minute romp before he was captured again.

Owner Kenneth Dennis of Louisville said the animal had jumped a fence to get away.

his parents in New Oxford. Another trip to Johns Hopkins and he was able to begin "getting around" this April. He walks on crutches and has braces on both legs. Further operations will make the one leg functional, he told the jury. He probably never will regain full use of the other leg, he said physicians told him.

Officer Yanetti said he and another officer were in the New Oxford square at the time a radio call sent them to the accident at Cross Keys. Asked if there were any disinterested witnesses who saw the accident, the officer replied: "I think the Booker and Taylor cars were the only ones on the highways at that hour in the morning with the exception of our police car."

BRAKES OKAY LATER

Testimony and pictures shown by Photographer C. Robert Ziegler disclosed that the Booker car came to rest 44 feet south of the Lincoln Highway on the Hanover Rd. The small German-made car operated by Taylor stopped 68 feet from the intersection and off the east side of the road.

Raymond Spahr, chief mechanic at the Adams County Motors here, testified he had tested the brakes on Miss Booker's car on August 15. He found them working. He told the jury that the brakes needed repair, but said they were still functional. The type brake, he said, was a "power assisted" rather than a full "power" brake. Thus even if the pressure was lost which helped brake the car, the mechanical brakes still functioned.

BLAME NEGLIGENCE

Spahr added that, if the power assist failed, the driver would have a feeling of having no brakes as he started to brake, and then, as he pushed the brake pedal closer to the floor of the car, the brakes would take hold quickly. He said if Miss Booker tried to stop, she did not push the brake pedal far enough.

The jury found Mrs. Taylor died of a broken neck and fractures of the skull as a result of the auto accident which the jury decided was "due to the negligence of Miss Booker."

Members of the jury were Mrs. Ethel Crist, Gettysburg; Cleason Stoner, New Oxford; Emory Thomas, Gettysburg; Clair Sanders, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Betty Pitzer, Biglerville R. 1, and G. Henry Roth, Gettysburg.

OPEN HOUSE AT WASHETTE

Busy housewives can do their laundry and plan their vacation all in one stop at Schwartz's Washette and Apache Camping Center, 158 E. Water St., where open house will be observed Saturday and Sunday.

Originated in 1948, Schwartz's Washette was the first coin-operated public laundry in Gettysburg and during the past 16 years has been enlarged several times to accommodate the needs of the public.

The newest remodeling project provides new lighting, floors and interior, and the machines have been relocated to provide more work space and lounge area. Seventeen washers and seven large driers speed the weekly laundry chore in the coin-operated division, which is open 24 hours a day. The custom division, where Schwartz's employees finish laundry, contains six washers and two large driers and pressing and ironing equipment. Little League uniforms are washed and dried free.

The Camping Center, with an office in the laundry center, is a joint project of Mr. Schwartz and Larry Parish and specializes in both sales and rentals of Apache Camp trailers of numerous sizes and models.

Open house hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Today's Talk

SCOPE
The over-all picture of life is the only one worth our consideration. It isn't the big or little defeat or victory of today that aside as a success or a failure
— but the vast scope of life itself that is envisioned.

William James in one of his most fascinating and realistic lectures once said this: "What sort of a thing would like really be, with your qualities ready for a tussle with it, if it only brought fair weather and gave these higher faculties of yours
no scope?"

How can anyone hope for happiness who is determined upon an isolation of his own life, in contrast to the lives of others, or who fences himself in, with no scope to his immortal soul?

This visible world of ours is but the promise of an invisible one which we dream, work and pray may some day be ours. It is that hidden reserve within us — a concealed spiritual force, which we feel but cannot see,
that makes all life attemptable and very much worth while.

The light of life floods our consciousness and fills us with fight and will, just the moment we decide that fear shall be no master of us, and that those higher elements so generously given to us as an inheritance shall rule us in all our decisions throughout life.

Life did not come to us as something with which to play uselessly, but for a purpose.
Every kindly act that stirs us, every urge that warms our heart, and every hope that gleams like a silver cord in the sunlight, are things that convince us of a living, latent power, without which life would appear dark indeed.

We judge others largely by what we know about ourselves.
We even judge other nations — perhaps unfortunately — by what we know about our own land, but if our mental and spiritual scope is great enough, we are bound to gain knowledge that otherwise might be inaccessible.

It's largely because we live in a self world that we lose our faith and vision, and grow restless, and lose the courage to stake all that we have on life.
Listen to the words of William James again: "Be not afraid of life. Believe that life is worth living, and your belief will help create the fact."

Just Folks

TRUE DELIGHT
I know no greater joys than these:
The laughter of a child,
The fragrance of the summer breeze,
A home kept undefiled.

Books chosen from the crowds
with care;
Friends just as truly made,
The comfort of an earnest prayer,
The games at evening played.

A patch of lawn, a garden small,
And in the evening gloom
As the long twilight shadows fall
A dog to wag you home.

Let great men ride their pompous way,
Still must their souls be glum,
Unless at every close of day
To these true joys they come.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
WASHINGTON (AP)—Passing over 43 senior generals, President Johnson has named Lt.
Gen. Harold K. Johnson, a veteran of the Bataan death march and of battles with the Red Chinese in Korea, as the Army's new chief of staff.

As the vice chief of staff, the President picked Lt. Gen.
Creighton W. Abrams, 49, who served with Gen. George Patton's 4th Armored Division in World War II.

Abrams also was well down the seniority list—34th among the lieutenant generals.

The shifts in the Army command came about because the present chief of staff, Gen.
Earle G. Wheeler, is being promoted to chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, replacing Gen.
Maxwell D. Taylor, named ambassador to South Viet Nam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders have worked out an agreement that should bring passage of the civil rights bill next week—and may mean Republicans will get the two-week convention recess they have demanded.

After a series of meetings
Wednesday, Rules Committee
Chairman Howard W. Smith,
D-Va., consented to call a committee meeting Tuesday to clear the way for House action on the bill.

Smith, a strong foe of the civil rights measure, said he called the meeting only because "a majority of the members of the committee will, under the rules of the House, convene the committee unless the chairman does so."

Smith said he expected the committee to hold a hearing on the Senate changes in the bill and act on it all in the same day.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated Wednesday a last-minute effort to reduce by 10 per cent the $2.67-billion "Apollo Project" for putting a man on the moon by 1970.

Then the Senate approved 78 to 3 a new authorization of $5-246,293,250 for the over-all program of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The measure now returns to the House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
Warren commission described as unfounded Wednesday reports it is about to publish its findings in the investigation of John F. Kennedy's assassination.

"The commission has learned of published reports to the effect that the report of the commission will be published within the next few days," the commission said in a statement.

"The commission wishes to announce that these reports are unfounded."

It gave no indication when the report would be made public.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Penn-agreed on a bill that repealed a 10 per cent federal luxury tax by a 48-38 vote Thursday.

Sen. Hugh Scott, Republican, voted for the bill, while Sen.

The amendment repeals the retail tax on furs, jewelry, luggage, handbags, and cosmetics.
The tax remains, however, on furs and jewelry costing more than $100.

CRANDALL'S 4TH HIT WINS FOR GIANTS IN 13 INNINGS

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax set his record but the 34,930 Candlestick Park fans who saw him did it probably will remember Del Crandall's performance a lot longer.

Koufax has struck out 10 or more batters in a game 54 times before, but how many times has Crandall had four hits in a game?

It was the veteran catcher's fourth safety of the night that broke up a 13-inning oldtime Giant - Dodger donnybrook Thursday night and gave San Francisco a 2-1 squeaker over Los Angeles.

KOUFAX BROKE RECORD

Crandall, acquired from Milwaukee last winter, delivered the key blow in the final inning after hits by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda and an intentional walk to Jim Ray Hart had loaded the bases.

Crandall, batting .188 going into the game, cracked his game-ending hit off Nate Oliver's glove as Cepeda scampered across with the winning run.

BUCKS WIN AGAIN

The Dodgers got their first run on Ron Fairly's third home run of the year in the seventh. San Francisco tied it on Mays' walk and steal of second and Tom Haller's pinch single in the eighth.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh whipped New York for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 8-1, and St. Louis rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to whip Houston 4-2.

JERRY LYNCH HAMMERED TWO HOMERS and Bill Mazeroski had one as the Pirates piled up an early lead against the Mets. The 13-hit attack made it easy for Joe Gibbon, who fired a four-hitter.

HUNT SCORES RUN

Ron Hunt had two hits for the Mets and scored their only run. It was New York's fifth straight loss and 13th in the last 14 games.

Ken Boyer and Dick Groat cracked eighth inning doubles to drive in the three Cardinal runs as St. Louis rallied to beat Bob Bruce. Boyer's two-run shot came after Curt Flood walked and Bill White singled. Groat's hit added the insurance run.

BOB ASPROMONTE drove in both Houston runs with a pop fly double in the second inning and a homer in the sixth.

Glen Rock defeated the New Oxford American Legion team 7-2 Thursday evening at New Oxford in a York County League game.

McSherrystown Little League

Rallying for four runs in the top of the fifth inning, the Knights of Columbus took a squeaker from the Moose Thursday evening 12-11.

"Twietie" Smith started on the mound for the K. of C. but needed help from R. Noel who was credited with the victory. Tony Murren pitched the entire game for the Moose and fanned 11.

Jeff Heagy homered in the first inning for the Moose.

Optimist Boys' League

John Miller and Don Carr set a blistering pace as they led the Rifles to a 12-5 win over the Yankees Thursday and thus move into undisputed possession of first place by a half a game.

Miller went the distance on the mound and while at the plate banged out four-for-four including two triples and a double. Carr clouted a home run and double and scored four times.

J. Vivaldi kept the Yankees alive with some fine pitching and he also belted a home run in the fifth to account for two runs. Dean Bensn also had two hits for the losers.

STEVE BARBER GIVES YANKS 3-1 TRIMMING; 3RD FOR BIRDS

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dust off the first chair, boys — Baltimore's fanciest Barber is back in business!

Steve Barber, who bossed the Orioles' pitching corps a year ago with a 20-13 mark, can count his 1964 victories on one hand. But the three-hit, nine-strikeout trim job he did on New York Thursday night in a 3-1 verdict over the Yankees had all the earmarks of a return to 1963 form.

The southpaw's effort, coupled with home runs by Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson, gave the Orioles a sweep of the three-game series and stretched their American League lead over the Yankees to 2½ games.

ARM HEALTHY AGAIN

A month ago, Barber was still looking for his first victory. He had started five games, finished none and was laboring with a sore arm and a 6.63 earned run average.

Now he's 4-4 with two complete games in his last three starts and a 3.79 ERA. His left arm is healthy again, which is more than can be said for the Yankees' injury.

They came into Baltimore on a five-game win streak and left with their heads shaved. Manager Yogi Berra, however, was un-luck.

LA TAKES 7TH

"We're one game behind (in the loss column) with 98 to play," he purred.

While the Orioles were mistreating New York for the third straight time, the red-hot Los Angeles Angels captured their ninth in a row, nipping Kansas City 4-3, and climbed into a sixth-place tie with idle Boston. Cleveland overpowered Minnesota 8-1 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Barber's scissors slipped once against the Yanks. Joe Pepitone led off the third inning with his ninth homer. But Powell's 18th circuit—his third in the series—and Robinson's eighth, both off loser Jim Bouton, gave Barber all the runs he needed before 36,369 fans, largest Baltimore crowd of the season.

LONGEST STREAK

Bob Rodgers' sixth-inning single scored Bob Perry, snapping a 3-3 deadlock at Los Angeles and extending the longest winning streak in Angel history.

Fred Newman recorded his fourth straight victory with the aid of Dan Osinski's scoreless three-inning relief stint.

Veterans Jim Piersall and Vic Power each delivered runs in the Angels' three-run third inning. Bill Bryan hit a solo homer for the A's, who scored twice in the top of the sixth, to tie it.

Max Alvis crashed his third homer in two games and Jack Kralick won his eighth game in 10 decisions as the Indians cuffed former teammate Mudcat Grant. Kralick collected three hits and combined with reliever Don McMahon for a three-hitter.

Larry Brown also homered for Cleveland and Dick Howser went 3-for-5. The Twins' Bob Allison stretched his hitting string to 15 games with a fourth-inning double.

POLITICS HITS WIMBLEDON FOR 1ST TIME

By BOB WATTS
Associated Press Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Officials at aristocratic Wimbledon, which prides itself on being the world's best-run tournament, were wondering today just what to do if any more Communist players refuse to play with South Africans because of apartheid.

Politics hit Wimbledon tennis for the first time in its 78 years Thursday when Russia's No. 2 player, Alex Metreveli, scratched from the men's single after refusing to meet South African Abe Segal in a third-round match because of South Africa's racial policies.

This shock withdrawal was closely followed by Hungarian Istvan Gulyas pulling out of the men's doubles in which he was to have partnered Segal.

FEAR NEW REFUSAL

Now Wimbledon officials are wondering if another player, Mrs. Suzi Kormoczy of Hungary, will withdraw from the doubles first-round match in which she is scheduled to play with Christiane Mercelis of Belgium against Segal's wife, Heather, and Carol Prosen of Orlando, Fla.

One Wimbledon official said: "To keep political propaganda out of Wimbledon in the future we should insist that a player can only withdraw if he produces a valid medical certificate."

Russian coach Semyn Belitz-German said: "The decision was entirely up to Metreveli's own conscience. There was no pressure from me or from the tennis association in Moscow."

MOST SEEDS WIN

Politics apart, Thursday saw the exit of the first seed in the women's bracket — seventh-ranked Jan Lehane of Australia. Norma Baylon, the young Argentine star, beat her 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Otherwise, all of the seeds, both men and women, who took the courts Thursday came through — though several had some uneasy moments.

These included the holders of the men's and women's titles—Chuck McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., who was taken to four sets by Denmark's bearded Torben Ulrich, 7-5, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5, and Marge Smith of Australia, who struggled through a marathon first set before beating Mrs. Karen Susman, of San Antonio, Tex., 1962 winner but unseeded this year, 11-9, 6-0.

PHILS, EAGLES REJECT OFFER ON STADIUM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League and the baseball Philadelphia Phillies of the National League have rejected rental arrangements offered by the Pennsylvania Railroad for the proposed 60,000-seat stadium near the 30th St. Station.

Eagles' owner Jerry Wolman said, "We would play in a stadium wherever it is built if it were constructed to our liking, if the rental was fair and if the stadium was not a controversial subject with the taxpayers."

George Harrison, Phillies' treasurer, said that the terms offered by the railroad were "very stiff," but negotiations will continue.

Wolman said that the proposed stadium at 30th Street, so far as he is concerned, is a "dead issue." He said the PRR and others "closed the door on us. They told us there was no room for negotiations."

Wolman said the stadium should be publicly or city owned and the proposal be approved by the voters at the polls or city council.

Railroad officials could not be reached for comment.

The Eagles now play at the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field, which Wolman said the Eagles like, though their tenure is uncertain.

According to Harrison, however, the Phillies want to acquire a stadium with more seats and greater parking facilities.

BOONE WINS 3 MATCHES

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Boone has been wrestling Greco-Roman style for only a year but watching the Air Force veteran on the mats in the 12th annual National AAU Championships Thursday night at the World's Fair you would think he was at it all his life.

The 24-year-old representative of the Long Island, N.Y. Grapplers scored three victories in the 138.5-pound class on opening day of the two-day competition, which leads to the Olympic Trials, with the best victory com-

"I won the Air Force world wide judo titles in 1959-60-61 but I gave up the sport when I was discharged to concentrate on wrestling."

JIM BUNNING TO FACE CARDS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — No matter how good Jim Bunning does tonight, he can only do as well — no better — than he did last time out.

The Philadelphia Phillies pitcher, who hurled a perfect, no-hit, no-run, no-walks shutout of the New York Mets last Sunday, goes in the first game of the Phillies road trip tonight against the St. Louis Cardinals.

No doubt all the fans at Busche Stadium will be looking for a repeat performance from the righthander, but the odds against it are pretty near insurmountable.

No one has ever pitched two perfect no hit games in major league history and only one man — the Cincinnati Reds' Johnny VanderMeer — ever pitched two no hitters in consecutive games.

Bunning, with a 7-2 season's record, will be facing righthander Bob Gibson 6-4 for the Cards.

The word "tulip" derives from a Turkish word for turban. Early Turkish gardeners hybridized wild species. The spring flower was introduced to Holland, via Austria, in the latter part of the 16th Century.

VIENNA (AP) — Romania's

Communist government says it will increase all wages 10 to 15 per cent because of "the favorable development of our economy."

Radio Bucharest said the wage boosts will be made under a staggered system beginning Aug. 1 and continuing into 1965. Children and family bonuses also will be increased and wage taxes lowered, the announcement said. Percentages were not disclosed.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An Acme Markets, Inc., official said that the supermarket strike in Maryland will cause company sales and earnings to drop in the first quarter of this year. Chairman and president Paul J. Cupp said Wednesday at an annual meeting that sales will drop "slightly" from last year's $274,891,579 figure, but the amount of profit loss below 1963's first 13 weeks of $3,047,714 is uncertain.

Rehinge Cupboard Doors To Avoid Bumping Head

By HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist
No need to bump your head on open cabinet doors—just change them to center-hinged doors.

To make a cabinet door that folds back, rather than swings out, cut it in two, lengthwise down the center. Then install flat hinges on the inside of the door. These hinges will hold the two sections together. When you open the door, it will fold in the center and take up half the space it originally did. When you close it, the door will shut flat and latch the same as it did when it was in one piece.

Doors of plywood, fiberboard, or solid wood can be rehinged this way. If you're a do-it-yourself enthusiast and have a power saw that makes a neat, even cut, you can change your own cabinet doors. When there isn't a do-it-yourselfer in the family, you may prefer to hire a carpenter for the job.

If you find center-hinged cabinet doors handy, you can make your closet doors the same way.

INCOME PROTECTION
Because the family depends on the earning power of the breadwinner, measures should be taken to assure some income when he can no longer provide a living. Death, disability, or retirement can result in loss of earning power.

Sources of protection against loss of earning power include life and health insurance. Life insurance can provide continuing income to the family when the breadwinner dies during his working years.

During the time he may be unable to work, disability insurance can provide continuing income to the breadwinner and his family. Long-term disability insurance may continue payments up to age 60 or 65. At that time retirement benefits would be expected to provide the income.

RETIREMENT FEATURE

The retirement feature of an insurance policy is expected to provide a continuing income from retirement until death.

A family depending on insurance to guarantee income in case of death, disability, or retirement of the breadwinner study various kinds of insurance policies to see if they offer the kinds and amounts of protection that fits their needs.

Learn a few tricks about folding and fitting garments into your suitcase. It may improve your packing efficiency.

To curb your desire to take everything you own, list articles you think you'll need. This can also serve as a checklist when you pack.

One way to keep your suitcase light is to transfer cosmetics from glass jars to plastic containers. Seal caps with cellophane tape. For additional safety, insert spillables and breakables into plastic bags.

Pack items in layers separated by tissue paper. Use this order: Bulky items on the bottom, then lingerie, accessories, blouses, and dresses. Place nightwear on top.

When packing a suit, fold skirt lengthwise with bottom over edge of case. Place jacket on top of skirt with shoulders toward rear of bag and sleeves folded across jacket then fold skirt end over jacket and bottom of jacket over skirt.

To prevent snags, pack stockings inside gloves. To save space, pack socks in shoes; then place shoes in shoebags, old socks, or plastic bags. Put one pair in plastic rain boots if you're taking them. Place jewelry in bags to protect it and keep it separated and within easy reach. If you're going on an extended trip, take a smaller suitcase filled with overnight needs. It'll save you time and frustration.

Health

Cover food you're going to eat. Flies have very dirty feet. They are not only prolific, they are a serious menace. They breed and wallow in filth. Then come into the house. They spread germs all around. Diseases are carried by flies. Dysentery, diarrhea, typhoid. Cover garbage and disposal cans. Screen all doors and windows. Great flies with insect spray.

Jupiter is puzzling astronomers again. The mysterious giant planet apparently has started to spin more slowly, and no one knows why.

New Officers Installed By Woman's Community Club At Final Meeting Of The Year

Mrs. Leroy W. Bish (left) was installed as the new president of the Woman's Community Club at its June meeting to succeed Mrs. Edward Leister from whom she is shown receiving the gavel.

A program entitled "Wedding Gowns Through the Years" was presented at the final meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity for the 1963-1964 club year, bringing to a conclusion the 33rd year of continuous activities of the club.

The oldest gown on display was 114 years old and the newest one four days old.

The outgoing president, Mrs. Edward H. Leister, presented the gavel to the president-elect, Mrs. Leroy W. Bish, following installation ceremonies held in the outdoor garden setting which was a feature of the decorations. Mrs. Bish is the 21st president of the club. Mrs. Leister completes a two-year term and previously served one year as president in 1945-1946.

ELABORATE SETTING

The garden setting included palms, wedding bells, and white wrought iron furniture placed on a lawn with simulated growing flowers of white. The chairs were arranged as the pews in a church complete with floral and satin bouquets used at a real wedding last Sunday. Members and a large number of guests were ushered to their places by Mrs. Leonard L. Potter and Mrs. Leroy W. Bish, members of the program committee.

Mrs. Atlee F. Rebert, chairman of the program committee extended thanks to Mrs. Marietta Weikert Witt, her mother, Mrs. Charles W. Weikert on whose 23rd wedding anniversary she was married, and her grandmother, Mrs. Anna B. Leach, both members of the club, for permission to use the wedding decorations and flowers. Mrs. Rebert introduced the tenor soloist, Stewart N. Long, who sang "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "Because." He was accompanied by Miss A. Marie Budde who played the traditional wedding march, as the coverings were removed to reveal the many and varied wedding gowns on display. Mrs. Rebert gave a brief commentary for each gown.

SHOW 1850 GOWN

The oldest gown on display was a black one, originally blue but dyed when the bride's mother passed away; it was worn by Susan Warehime, on November 28, 1850, when she married William H. Mauss. Her jewelry was an 1802 George Washington silver dollar made into a pin. The next oldest dress was a soft shade of brown worn by Susan Alice Maus married to Worthington Duttrier. The material was brought from Baltimore by a huckster and the bride didn't wear the dress very much because she didn't like the color. It was made by her mother. Both of these wedding gowns were provided by Miss Malva Duttrier, a member of the club.

Other gowns displayed in addition to the four-day-old one of Mrs. Witt, which is of silk organza, featuring appliques of seed pearls and sequins, together with her seed pearl crown and bouffant illusion veil dated from 1900 included a white gown worn by Miss Roberta Livers when she was married to George A. Buddy, in St. Aloysius Catholic Church; the largest wedding in the church

People In The News

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Helen Keller, who will be 84 Saturday, is a woman of "great dignity who is just growing old with grace."

So reports a frequent caller at the country home of the blind and deaf author.

Miss Keller has given up writing and lectures. She refuses to receive reporters and photographers. Old friends and relatives call often at her white clapboard house for a chat.

Future Role Of Congress In Smoking, Health Hazy

By STANLEY MEISLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The future role of Congress in the problem of smoking and health is growing hazier all the time. A host of bills is pending—all asking Congress to move in a host of different directions—and all the paper seems to have created a confusing maze.

The confusion has been compounded by a decision of the Federal Trade Commission to issue a rule requiring that cigarette advertising and labels include a warning next year that smoking may cause death from cancer and other diseases.

MANY COURSES OPEN
The FTC announced its rule at a House Commerce Committee hearing called to consider bills that would enact a similar rule into law.

Some of the courses Congress may take now that the FTC has issued its rule are:

1. Do nothing and the FTC would go through with its rule. With the tobacco industry taking the rule to federal courts, years of litigation would follow.

2. Approve one of several bills introduced since the U.S. Public Health Service's special advisory committee said that cigarette smoking is a health hazard.

SOME SEEK DELAY
If Congress passed a law requiring the same labels the FTC rule requires the confusion likely would be over. Without court suits, the tobacco industry likely would begin putting warning notices on its labels and advertising.

3. Approve one of several bills which would either delay the FTC decision for three years or require approval by Congress before the FTC may issue a rule.

These bills have the support of congressmen from the tobacco states and of those congressmen who believe the FTC has overstepped its authority.

CONGRESS HAS DECISION
4. Approve legislation proposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare giving the Food and Drug Administration authority to regulate cigarette labels under the Hazardous Substances Act.

Such a law, however, might not stop the FTC rule. Commission for re-election this fall. Tradition proved too strong to get the idea through.

Instead Churchill probably will be honored by a special resolution.

NEW YORK (AP)—A visitor from abroad would have good reason to believe that the Johnsons have taken over the country.

By reading a newspaper this week, he could have learned learned that President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed U. Alexis Johnson deputy ambassador to South Viet Nam, named Lt. Gen. Harold K. Johnson as Army chief of staff and held a telephone conference with Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi.

CHICAGO (AP)—Quote of the day: William Northrop, a Chicago construction worker after he was awarded a medal for subduing and capturing the assailant of a stenographer: "I acted on instinct. I saw somebody in trouble and I went to help. Wouldn't anybody?"

AGAINST TRANSIT BILL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirteen Pennsylvania Democrats and nine Republicans voted with the majority Thursday as the House approved the mass transit bill by a 212-189 roll call vote.

Four Republican members voted against the bill. Republicans against (4) included Goodling.

sion Chairman Paul Rand Dixon has testified that the FTC still would have the legal responsibility of regulating cigarette advertising and labels unless Congress passed a law specifically taking away the responsibility.

5. Pass a resolution expressing the sense of Congress that the FTC should postpone or discard its rule. Dixon said the FTC would obey such a command of Congress.

COULD OUTLAW FAGS

6. Accept a suggestion by the tobacco industry that if Congress must pass a law about warnings it should tone down the kind of warning required.

7. Pass a law completely outlawing the sale and use of cigarettes just as it has outlawed the sale and use of narcotics.

However, the mood of Congress seems very far from that kind of drastic step.

Comedy Pleases Totem Pole Goers

Miss Jean Stapleton joins Arlene Anders and Brendan Fay in the satiric farce comedy "A Rainy Day in Newark," written by the author of "A Solid Gold Cadillac" now playing at the Totem Pole Theater this week. Fay plays John T. Kodiak, the labor leader Miss Anders, this year's leading lady, is very much at home in the role of Elizabeth Lamb, the operator of a dying clock company. Jean Stapleton, as Brewster, her office secretary, gives the audience many chuckles in her role. Tom McKenna is the legal counsel for Kodiak and is on edge constantly to keep him out of trouble. Brent Sargent is imposing as Henry Cotton, the man Miss Lamb has not known she was married to for 12 years and dapper Jonathan Troy plays the man who has been beseeching her for her hand during those years. James Pike does well as the factory steward and Arden Kiser appears as an aging official of the union with only one speech.

Others in the cast are: George Splevin, Cliff Lake, Mark Lonow, Harold Stessel, Peter Bruguere and Chester Smith. The play is set in Endicott, N.J. Director William Putch appears in costume for his entrance-act greeting.

TESTS SATURDAY FOR COUNSELORS
Ronald K. Baltzley, manager of the local office of the Bureau of Employment Security, announced today that qualifying tests will be given Saturday at his office for those interested in applying for jobs as counselor aide.

This is part of a nationwide program to recruit and train counselor aides to help salvage the nation's disadvantaged youth.

"There is urgent need to recruit qualified workers as counselor aides," Baltzley stated. "Those selected will be given government financed instruction in counseling, advising and working with disadvantaged youth."

To qualify, an applicant must be a college graduate preferably in counseling, psychology, social work, education, sociology or related fields. An applicant must be unemployed or underemployed to receive this training. Those who are chosen will be given eight to 10 weeks of concentrated instruction in one of 15 Pennsylvania colleges and universities between July 15 and September 15.

Baltzley said screening tests will be administered at the local office, 39 West St., Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. and urged all those interested to apply at that time.

Sermon For The Week

By REV. W. W. KENNARD, Pastor, York Springs-New Oxford-Hunterstown Methodist Charge

The Price of Fruitfulness . . . John 15:1-5

Of all the miracles of spring, one which has occurred in my back yard seems especially striking. There the gnarled, black trunk of a grapevine is capped with a rich spread of green foliage, and bunches of half-formed fruit. Weeks ago I was skeptical that the vine would yield any grapes at all this year. For at the advice of friends I had pruned it severely; and when I finished nothing looked quite so lifeless, so barren, as did that vine. But now, what a radical change! The severe pruning has produced more luxuriant greenery and more fruit than ever before.

I am reminded of the words of Jesus: "I am the vine, you are the branches . . . My Father is the vine-dresser . . . every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit." Can we see this pruning process in relation to our own lives? First, consider this. If we have been living relatively fruitful Christian lives, we are terribly tempted to rest content with yesterday's fruits and foliage. We are prone to look on the past with satisfaction, rather than to the future with anticipation. Might not our lives bear even more fruit if we would allow the Father to prune away past accomplishments, and point us toward future possibilities? The fruits of the past must not weigh us down in the present, preventing us from going on to even greater things for God.

GOD'S SURGERY
Secondly, what in our lives hinders our productivity? What habit, what prejudice, what attitude, what weakness impairs our fruitfulness? If we will yield ourselves to God's surgery. He will cut away these hindrances, these sappers of spiritual strength, and will enable us to "bear more fruit."

If we submit to the Vine-dresser's skillful pruning, the miracle of greater fruitfulness can take place not only in our back yards, but in our own lives as well. And let us not forget: This pruning is the price of fruitfulness.

According to Eskimo thinking, "The wolf and the caribou are one; for the caribou feeds the wolf, but it is the wolf who helps the caribou strong."

When I watch the stone mason at his trade . . . then I'm sure I can shape a stone. If . . . I had the right tools! If . . . I could apply just the right driving force!

But my stone always splinters, shatters.

It should be easier to shape the future. Tomorrow seems so formless, so pliable.

Yet there are so many tools. Which to use? So many kinds of force, of power. Which will shape, not destroy, my hopes?

I am realizing fast that the vital tools must be spiritual. My Church is training me to understand, to use them.

And centuries of Christian heritage convince me that the driving force ought to be spiritual. A Power that flows from God . . . is grasped by faith . . . and in the reverent hands of dedicated men will shape—rather than shatter—tomorrow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Born In "Garden Of Eden" Here; He Paints At 95

Noted Artist Recreating His Lost Works

"I became a landscape painter because I grew up in the most beautiful country in the world, a Garden of Eden—it's even called Adams County on the map."

Charles Morris Young, Gettysburg native who has won high honors in the world in this country and abroad, is quoted in last Sunday's Philadelphia Inquirer as giving that explanation of the way in which he set foot on the road to fame in the world of art.

Spry and alert at 95, Young holds one of the longest exhibition records at the Academy of Fine Arts: 59 years. He hobbles but refuses to use a cane and he's proudest of his last eight paintings, the story says.

LOST PAINTINGS IN FIRE

"Titian couldn't paint after 91. Not one of my contemporaries is still producing. I always worked standing up, walking back and forth, and it's hard to do that now," he admits.

But he was forced to do it. Two years ago a fire destroyed 185 canvases, along with his house, which Emerson's grandson had built. His son, Christopher, winner of a Venice film festival award, had mustered the pictures for a movie, finished the night before the fire, called "Nature Is My Mistress."

The Inquirer story continues:

Young is trying to repaint his lost prize-winners in the studio, a brown shingle building behind the gutted house, where he now lives at Radnor. He has recaptured "Frosty Morning," which Monet admired when it was exhibited at the Salon.

CIVIL WAR SCENES

To earn tuition for the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts years ago, he etched quarter-sized scenes of the Civil War on the backs of wooden canes and sold them for 50 cents apiece to battlefield tourists. Twenty-five years later Morton Prince, Boston psychologist and collector, told him, "You may fancy yourself a painter, but you couldn't do work like that," and brought out one of those canes.

He calls himself the "Constable of Radnor Township," after the English artist who inspired impressionism. "I told that to a fellow at St. David's Golf Club one day and he exclaimed: 'A little fellow like you!'" Young played golf until three years ago.

His love of the land was born on the long walks to his uncle's school at Sellin's Grove (now Susquehanna University) on camping trips with his brothers, and rambles on the back of his horse, Cigaret. A book on Constable in his father's library and sculptors of battlefield monuments were his first art teachers. He studied under Anschutz and Vonnoh at the Academy, and married a fellow student, Eliza Cox, whose favorite aunt was known as the "angel of the an-thracite fields." They took their easels to Paris and visited cousin Mary Cassatt. "It was like a social call in Philadelphia," they didn't like neighbor Gertrude Stein and refused invitations to her soirees.

In the summer they moved to Giverny. They lived near Monet. "His son, a garage man, behaved better than the father. Monet would throw his canvases into his

His son, Arthur, whose design for stabilizing helicopters won him the Franklin Medal, says his father is a follower of the Zen philosophy: "To enjoy nature and capture its feeling with a few strokes of the brush."

Young's paintings are in museum collections in Washington, D.C., Hungary and Chile. He's won gold and silver medals. "In those days," he chortles, "the medals were real gold." His grandson owns them now.

Sometimes he had a client like Dave Sharp, who didn't like the painting of his barn till he saw it on the cover of Country Life. Then he came running over the fields to claim it.

The dip of a gull's wing, the glint of sun on waves in a cove, birch trees swaying in the wind are the stuff of Young's art.

lily pond and the family would have to fish them out."

In 1898 Young's Salon entry was a show-stopper, "Painted out of doors!" ran the incredulous comment. "But that is impossible. The paint would freeze." William Merritt Chase, the artist who, Young recalls, built fires in the Bellevue-Stratford because he didn't like steam heat, bought this painting and kept it on the walls of his studio for 40 years.

Painting out of doors, Young jumped moats, was chased by fishermen, and was initiated by the children of Katwyk an Zee, a Dutch village. They threw stones, dead fish and gravel. But the painting of misty morning blues, pinks and purples of houses along a canal, which the Academy of the Fine Arts bought for its permanent collection, does not show any of the marks. And Young exults: "An artist told me it took him 20 years to find that spot."

ATTORNEYS TO DEFEND GIRLS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Four court appointed attorneys will represent two teen-age York girls charged with murder.

President Judge Walter R. Sohn of Dauphin County court Thursday named attorneys Harry L. Bricker and Carl G. Wass to represent Romaine Dawson, 17, and Leslie B. Handler and Ronald Katzman to represent Cressie L. Kearse, 15.

Meanwhile, Dist. Atty. Martin H. Lock announced that a preliminary hearing tentatively has been set for Wednesday.

The girls are charged in the death of Stewart M. Chandler, 55, who was shot five times during a holdup in his cut-rate store last April 6. They were arrested while being held as material witnesses by York Police in the slaying of a 74-year-old woman storekeeper there.

Two others from York, Harry E. Friend, 21, and George L. Elliot, 19, are being held here in lieu of $10,000 bail on charges of being accessories after the fact to murder and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Similar charges have been filed against Bryant Sylvester Roscoe, 21, of York, who is listed by police as a fugitive.

CONVICT SIX OF CIVIL CONTEMPT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six directors of a tabulating card and data processing supplies firm based in Bryn Mawr and Skypot, Pa., have been convicted of civil contempt in U.S. District Court.

The six, head of Business Supplies Corporation of America, had been previously convicted of criminal contempt and fined a total of $13,000.

Found guilty were board chairman Clement V. Conole, Bryn Mawr; his son, president Richard C. Conole, Skypot; vice president Charles E. Anable, Skypot; vice president William J. Callahan of Mount Pocono; and executive vice presidents Bridwell W. Lincoln, Paradise Valley, and Alva M. Meyers, Ardmore.

The contempt findings were based on charges by a 50 percent stockholder that the directors changed bylaws of the firm to issue additional stock and deprive him of his directorship.

New Youth Center In Ruhr Named For Former Nazi SS Lieutenant

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A new youth center in the Ruhr bears the name of Kurt Gerstein, a lieutenant in the Nazi SS who had the job of supplying poison gas for the Auschwitz death mills.

Gerstein's cause is championed by a Jewish survivor of Nazi concentration camps and has been taken up by Jewish organizations.

"If there had been thousands more like Gerstein, there would have been no Auschwitz," says Issy Wygoda, 43, a Frankfurt fur dealer and onetime concentration camp inmate.

PROVIDED EVIDENCE

Gerstein died under mysterious conditions shortly after World War II, but he provided important evidence which was used at the Nuernberg war crimes trials. He risked his life to obtain much of it, Wygoda believes.

Wygoda is incensed because West German authorities have classified Gerstein as a Nazi offender and have denied his widow a pension.

In 1940 a sister-in-law was killed as a mental patient under the Nazi "mercy killing" program and Gerstein began checking on Nazi killings. He joined the SS to gain inside knowledge of Nazi crimes, Wygoda says.

TRIED SABOTAGE

Gerstein had studied some medicine and chemistry. The SS needed men with his training and he eventually headed a section in the "Hygiene Institute."

One of his jobs was to procure a cyanide gas used by extermination camps.

Gerstein tried to sabotage the operations in a limited way. Evidence shows he stopped one shipment of gas by marking it no good and ordering it buried.

But, according to Wygoda, his main effort was to alert the world outside Germany to concentration camp horrors.

SOUGHT PAPAL AUDIENCE

A Lutheran, he got word to German Bishop Otto Dibelius of his church. Dibelius in turn informed Swedish clergymen.

He was allegedly turned away when he sought an audience with the papal nuncio in Berlin, and later wrote:

"Could one expect that an ordinary citizen can do something when even the vicar of Christ does not want to listen to me although tens of thousands are murdered."

INSPIRED PLAY

Gerstein's visit inspired German author Rolf Hochhuth in writing his largely fictitious play "The Deputy."

In 1945 Gerstein surrendered to the Allies and gave the most detailed report on Nazi crimes ever to reach Allied hands. As proof he supplied bills for the cyanide gas.

The Allies could not be sure of Gerstein's anti-Nazi efforts and he was interned. He died July 25, 1945, in a Paris prison. Officially the cause was suicide, but there have been recurrent rumors that he was murdered to silence an accuser.

RULED AS OFFENDER

In 1950, a German court ruled that Gerstein was a Nazi offender. His widow, Elfriede Gerstein, appealed but the appeal was rejected.

Wygoda heard of the Gerstein case just after he had successfully finished a 13-year struggle with authorities for recognition of his own German citizenship.

Struck by what he regarded as another case of postwar injustice, Wygoda got Mrs. Gerstein's permission to reopen her husband's case.

Jewish organizations in Germany and France have taken up the cause.

German authorities have advised Wygoda that they will take another look at the Gerstein case.

Military Cutback:

550 Military Installations
Are Affected In Three Years

By BEM PRICE

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON — Over the past three years the Defense Department has closed, reduced or declared surplus 550 military installations.

By Defense Department calculations this has resulted in an annual saving of $552 million. In addition, these actions have produced a manpower saving figured at 81,559 jobs, including 48,835 in the military.

Of the total closed or reduced, 175 are overseas — this being interpreted to include Puerto Rico, Alaska and Hawaii.

Among the 175 are 15 installations which have yet to be identified.

Among the 550 installations are 51 ordnance plants or reserve machinery plants — designed for reactivation in event of nonnuclear war — which are up for sale to private industry.

40 MISSILE SITES
Included among the facilities declared excess to the nation's needs are 40 Nike anti-aircraft missile sites. By and large, these are emplacements for the now obsolete Ajax series — first to go on duty. They have been replaced in the arsenal by the Nike-Hercules missiles.

In general, the actions taken by the Defense Department represent reductions in acreage bought by the government and then found to be in excess of requirements.

Some to be given up include installations made obsolete by the changing nature of warfare from aircraft to missiles.

Since April 19, 1963, the Defense Department has announced the inactivation of 30 sites, including 20 in Canada, out of North Africa, giving up five bases in Morocco alone. This was done chiefly at the request of the host country. In any event, the bases were used mostly for the now obsolete B-47 bombers, except for the naval ordnance facility at Port Lyautey.

In explaining the basis for the actions, the Defense Department said: "Considerations which led to the actions were:

"Changes in weapon systems, organization structure and supply management concepts have reduced the need for some facilities. As a result workloads at some facilities can be redistributed to other more modern and efficient installations to save personnel and overhead costs."

The United States is also giving up many of its so-called gap filler radars. These are automatic radar systems, usually employed on about an acre of land, which feed into manned systems and cover remote areas between the larger radar screens. These gap fillers were part of the anti-aircraft network. They are still in operation in Florida — 90 miles from Communist Cuba.

FARM NEAR YOKYO
Perhaps the most unusual installation to be given up is the Chofu Hydroponic Farm outside Tokyo. It covered 124,000 acres. The farm was used to grow vegetables in chemical solutions for servicemen overseas. It was estimated shortly after the occupation of Japan to provide vegetables for U.S. servicemen which could NOT be purchased in Japan.

It was used to capacity during the Korean war.

Included in the latest list of installations to be closed are two airbases in England — Fairfield and Greenham Common. France lost four — Etian, Chantilly, Chambley and Phalsburg. Japan lost one — Itazuke — and so did Spain — Zaragoza.

Industry Fights Cigarette Label

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tobacco industry today denounced the new federal rule on cigarette labels and advertising as unlawful, unwise, and unfair and said "we shall oppose it in the courts if necessary."

The rule, announced Wednesday by the Federal Trade Commission, would require tobacco manufacturers by next year to include a warning in cigarette labels and advertising that smoking may cause death from cancer and other diseases.

The industry's firm opposition to the rule was made clear by Bowman Gray, chairman of the board of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., as he testified before the House Commerce Committee.

A court challenge could mean years of litigation on whether the FTC rule could go into effect.

FAMILY DOWNS MODIFIED PLAN FOR MEMORIAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The family of Franklin D. Roosevelt has rejected the latest modified design for a memorial to the late president, just approved by Washington's Fine Arts Commission after three years of controversy.

After the commission's acceptance Wednesday of the design, a letter was made public stating that the five surviving Roosevelt children are "unilaterally opposed" to the plan for a memorial based on an arrangement of eight great concrete tablets up to 130 feet high.

Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., as spokesman for the family group, addressed the letter to Francis Biddle, chairman of the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Commission, and William Walton, chairman of the Fine Arts Commission. He said the five Roosevelt children met at Hyde Park, N.Y., last Sunday and agreed unanimously that they did not like either the original design submitted by the commission in 1961, or the modification.

The Roosevelt children made one special request—that any memorial include groves of trees "in recognition of the tremendous feeling Franklin D. Roosevelt had for trees and his great interest in their conservation."

MEDICAL CARE IS DROPPED AS SS INCREASES

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's chances of getting his medical care program now hinge on the Senate—and perhaps on his ability to persuade key House members later.

The President lost round one Wednesday when the House Ways and Means Committee shelved the Social Security health program.

The committee, however, did vote for a 5 per cent increase in cash payments to Social Security retirees.

INCREASE IN OCTOBER
If Congress acts promptly, passing the bill in July, the October pension checks could reflect the increase.

Social Security retirement now averages $77 for an individual, with a top of $127. A wife 62 or older means an additional 50 per cent. A tax boost to pay for the increase would go into effect Jan. 1.

When members of the American Medical Association's House of Delegates meeting in San Francisco heard of the committee's decision against the plan they stood up and cheered.

AMA MEDICARE OPPONENT
The AMA has been one of the strongest and most vocal opponents of the medical care plan and its president, Dr. Thomas A. Welch, said, "We are confident that this decision is in keeping with the attitude of the majority of the American people."

Rep. Cecil R. King, D-Calif., co-author of the health plan, seized the initiative in shelving it when it was obvious that a vote would mean defeat.

As a result, if the House finally does get a medical care plan from the Senate, there will not be a record of committee rejection. King's motion was to confine the present bill to retirement matters.

VOTE 5 PER CENT INCREASE

Then, in what appeared on the surface to be a reversal of roles, Democratic liberals on the committee voted against a Republican move to make the Social Security retirement increase 6 per cent instead of 5 per cent. They defeated this move, 12 to 12—a tie loses under committee rules.

The theory was that the cost of a hospital plan would have to be added to the price for retirement increases. By keeping these at the 5 per cent level, some supporters of the health plan reasoned, they might make it possible for the Senate to superimpose health benefits without requiring an impossible high tax rise.

In southern Maryland, thieves recently neatly sawed and removed 17 walnut trees from a private woodland.

MARRIAGES IN TEENS JUDGED HUGE PROBLEM

DAVIS, Calif. (AP)—Unhappy

teen-age marriages are rapidly becoming one of the nation's major social problems, says a University of California professor.

"Marriage and parenthood have been oversold to America's children," Judson T. Landis, sociology professor, told a conference on marriage among the young.

As a result, he said, teenagers often view marriage as a symbol of adulthood or social acceptance and plunge headlong into an unforeseen financial struggle.

Landis said more than two million American girls between 13 and 17 are married every year and teen-age marriages last year produced about 600,000

babies. INCREASED PRESSURES
Jeanada Nolan, who heads a governor's subcommittee on family life, blamed increased pressures for young marriages. "Take away the threat of the draft and the bomb and we might have less urgency to assume adult roles," she said.

Robert O. Herrmann, assistant professor of business at the University of California, said teen-age husbands earn little more than $2,000 a year on the national average.

This is about a third of the average adult wage, he said.

COURT ALLOWS PICKETING AT ACME STORES

BALTIMORE (AP)—Limited, peaceful picketing will be allowed at Acme food stores under an order signed by two federal judges Wednesday night.

The order signed by Judges R. Dorsey Watkins and Ruel C. Thomsen modified a Baltimore Circuit Court injunction that had prohibited any picketing at Acme stores by the striking Retail Clerks Union.

The federal order prohibits violence, limits the number of pickets at any one entrance to three and the total at a single store to six.

The judges signed the order after granting a petition for removal from state court jurisdiction. When the petition was granted, Judge Wilson K. Barnes, who had signed the Circuit Court order prohibiting all picketing, adjourned a hearing he had called to determine whether he should modify his injunction.

STORES REOPEN

Before the action by the federal court, and despite Judge Barnes' injunction, union pickets paraded before Acme stores as 225 supermarkets of seven major chains, closed since April 17 because of a labor dispute, reopened Wednesday.

Union employees returned to work at the other six chains, but Acme opened with predominant nonunion help.

The stores had closed when the clerks union struck Acme and the other six chains, joined in a bargaining unit with Acme, shut their doors voluntarily.

Union clerks on the Delmarva Peninsula voted 127-32 Wednesday night to reject the latest management proposal for a new contract and to continue the contract offer Tuesday night. The last contract expired in

Smokey Says

Breathing Easier Despite Wording

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland's ruling Communist party called again today for "an unceasing struggle against alien views" and an increased ideological offensive.

Despite those words in the newly published resolutions of last week's fourth party congress, many a writer and artist was breathing easier.

The words were almost identical to the policy adopted a year earlier at a Central Committee session on ideology. It seemed to indicate that demands at the congress for a drastic tightening of screws against intellectuals had gone unheeded.

A recent Treasury Department request to mint more silver dollars was turned down by Congress because existing mint facilities are hard pressed to meet the demand for smaller coins.

KING RESUMES RACE COMMAND

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., complaining of no response to requests for federal intervention, has pledged there'll be no letup in a three-week-old drive for racial integration in St. Augustine.

King returned Wednesday after a week's absence to resume command of demonstrations by his Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Wednesday night, a parade of about 100 Negro and white civil rights demonstrators met twice with about 300 marching white segregationists, but several hundred policemen kept the groups apart.

Police arrested four civil rights demonstrators during the day. No incidents occurred at a wade-in on St. Augustine Beach.

POLICE HOLD ABDUCTORS OF INFANT GIRL

BELOIT, Wis. (AP) — A 3-month-old girl abducted from a Beloit home Monday night was recovered unharmed Thursday by police officers who found the baby in a car with a young woman and two men.

Police chief Chief Howard G. Bjorklund said Kimberly Jo Wulf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley H. Wulf, apparently was taken from the Wulf home by the sister of a baby sitter who had been left in charge of the Wulf children in the absence of the parents.

Margaret Ruth Converse, 19, of Beloit was named in a federal kidnapping warrant. She was held pending arraignment before a U.S. commissioner at Madison.

WITNESS HELD

Arrested with Miss Converse in the automobile with the baby, Bjorklund said, were David R. Hayes, 26, Shellsburg, Iowa; and Jerome B. Kerrigan, 55, Ada, Okla., identified by police as carnival workers. The chief said they were held without charge as material witnesses.

Authorities said Miss Converse told them she was the mother of two children herself but had lost custody of them in Michigan, but refused to provide details.

Two Beloit police officers, Dennis Pagelow and Joe Lomax, stopped an automobile at an intersection at 4:35 a.m. Thursday, and found the baby in Miss Converse's arms. The child was taken first to a hospital where an examination showed she was in good condition.

SEARCH SINCE TUESDAY
Police, FBI agents and sheriff's officers had joined in the search for the child Tuesday night after the baby was first reported missing.

Miss Converse and the two men said they had driven to Dubuque, Iowa, and had just returned to Beloit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wulf, who have six other children, ranging from Recent visitors at the home of Harold Wortz and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sites were Mr. and Mrs. George Wortz, Leesburg, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Wortz and son Ronnie, Richmond, Va.

15 years to 2 years, were in Charleston Heights, S.C., when the abduction occurred. Wulf had gone there on business Friday night. Their eldest son stayed with his grandmother and the other children were left in the care of 17-year-old Lillian Converse, a sister of Margaret.

Bjorklund said Margaret apparently went to the Wulf home and took the baby while her sister was absent. The chief said Lillian told of looking for her sister and the baby all day Tuesday and finally notified police about 6 p.m.

SEES GOP LOSS IF GOLDWATER IS NOMINATED

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater for president would spell defeat for the Republican party this fall, says his chief rival, Gov. William W. Scranton.

"It is sound judgment that his candidacy would set up our party for a defeat of major proportions," the Pennsylvania governor told a news conference Wednesday.

"But if Sen. Goldwater is nominated, I will work for him and support him no matter whatever long odds there are against his being elected," Scranton said.

He made the statements en route from Charleston, W. Va. to Miami. In both Florida and West Virginia he sought delegate support for his campaign.

STANDING OVATION
In Miami, Scranton addressed 16 Florida delegates and a meeting of the Florida Association of Broadcasters. Scranton gained no promise of support from the delegates, but got a standing ovation. Twenty-one members of the 34-vote delegation favor Goldwater. The others are uncommitted.

In his address to the broadcasters Scranton proposed that the United States organize and equip Cuban exile forces fighting to free their homeland of the Communist government of Fidel Castro.

At the news conference, Scranton said: "Since in politics almost anything can happen, it would not be impossible for Sen. Goldwater to beat (President) Johnson in November."

ODDS AGAINST VICTORY
"But there is such a thing as playing with odds so long that only the most optimistic partisan would have anything but a glimmer of hope."

"I believe that would be the position of the party with Barry as a candidate. It is not possible to exaggerate the tremendously difficult task to get him elected."

Goldwater has more than enough delegates to capture the nomination if his support holds up through the first ballot at the San Francisco convention.

ANOTHER FILM FOR SURF BUG BRUCE BROWN

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bruce Brown, the man who produced "Slippery When Wet," "Barefoot Adventure" and "Waterlogged," presented the world premiere of his latest film "The Endless Summer" this week.

Haven't heard of Bruce Brown or any of those films? You must be an earthbound square, man. Any hotdogger (surfing bug) knows that Bruce Brown is to surfing what John Ford is to Westerns, what Michaelangelo was to ceiling painters.

"The Endless Summer" has sold out four nights this week at the Encore Theater where audiences of tanned, taffy-haired young people and a few elderly types have gasped and cheered at surfers skidding down Matterhorn-like waves on foam-and-fibre glass boards. It is the sixth annual film of Brown, who went around the world to shoot two young surfers in Senegal, Ghana and other places that had never seen a surfboard.

Brown, 26, and blond, has been riding the crest of the surfing craze that has become a religion for thousands of California teen-agers. Through surfing music and magazines, the fad has spread to other parts of the country.

Brown operates his one-man film industry from his office at Dana Point, 50 miles south, in the heart of the high-wave district. He is his own cameraman and cutter and narrates the action in 100-150 one-night stands per year.

He makes frequent trips to Australia, which is the second most enthusiastic surfing country. Others are France, South Africa, New Zealand and Peru. His films also are shown with a recorded narration, and each can gross as high as $200,000.

"I spoke to the orthodontist today about Danny's teeth. He says that to straighten them it'll take about two years and $750. Do you think we ought to go ahead now — or wait until the doctor takes Danny's tonsils out?"

"I thought you said your old man was such an old grouch. Judy? Why, I think he's real human—considering that he's a parent."

"You're tired? What about me? If you think slaving all day for a husband and three kids is any bed of roses, let me tell you that."

DON'T REMEMBER

"No, I don't approve of your running off to play golf with those lockerroom idiot friends of yours. This is the weekend you promised me faithfully you'd stay home and dig out the crabgrass."

"What did I do with your bowling trophy? I threw it down the incinerator last fall. You can't have an atrocious looking thing like that cluttering up the house for years and years and years."

"Aw, gee, Dad, don't you ever remember what it was like to be a kid yourself?"

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you tired of having the same old fears?

Wouldn't you like some fresh anxieties to fret over to make your life more interesting? Well, be of good cheer. The possibilities are endless.

Medical dictionaries now list some 300 or more specific fears, and the list is growing. They all have wonderfully impressive-sounding names, and the chances are you have had some of these dreads all along and never knew it.

If you hate losing a golf match, your friends may merely put you down as a poor sport. But if you tell them you're suffering from rhabdophobia—which is the fear of being beaten—they're bound to feel more sympathetic.

EMBARASSES YOU

Perhaps it embarrasses you if the boss catches you dozing in your swivel chair at the office. Put your ailment down as hypnophobia, the fear of falling asleep.

If you hate being alone, you have got monophobia; if you can't stand crowds, you're a victim of ophophobia — and probably also apophobia, the fear of physical contact.

Old maids who can't stand men, dogs or marriage are triply afflicted with androphobia, cynophobia and gamophobia.

Women who are always cajoling their husbands into taking them out for the evening suffer from a complaint common among housewives — domatophobia, the fear of being shut

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
BE KIND TO DIETERS. A lovely writes: My husband is overseas and I stayed behind to have our baby—a beautiful girl. As my husband will be home soon, up in a house.

MISS MUFFET
That nursery rhyme character, Little Miss Muffet, who was frightened off her tuffet by a spider, acted from a deep-seated feeling of arachnophobia.

If you're looking for some really unusual fears, here are a few:

Dipsophobia—fear of liquor. Chromatophobia — fear of money.

Chionophobia—fear of snow. Autophobia — fear of hearing flutes.

THINGING FEAR
Tachnophobia — fear that you are harboring a tapeworm.

Linonophobia—fear of string. Phonophobia—fear of string.

Autophobia—fear of yourself. Of course, if you can't make up your mind what to be afraid of—and the choices are practically endless—there is a pack-age deal available.

You might decide to settle for pantophobia. That means the fear of everything.

I am dieting and trying to improve my appearance. But my girl friends heckle me about it, especially the plump ones, and their remarks get under my skin. Why are they so unkind? What's so peculiar about wanting to look attractive?

The Answer: As a saying goes, there's a perverse streak in some women that makes them wish fat people fatter. The way to deal with it is not by a show of anger or a sharp retort. The trick is turned by a real slick approach.

As an example, let's take that favorite quip, "Life's too short to torture yourself by dieting." It falls with a thud if you reply, "Yes, life is short and unhealthy, too, when you're overweight!"

Actually it is smart to avoid discussing a dieting or any sort of beauty program with unsympathetic people. The results speak for themselves and then beklung tongues are tied up in knots of envy.

Meanwhile there is comfort in the thought that attractive looks reflect your best self—your self-respect and consideration for others. Careless of her appearance, a woman reveals a low opinion of herself and everyone else.

This is not to say that a fine appearance is everything. But it certainly is a fine introduction to the person you really are.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, a man of highly competitive spirit mixed with endless and determined energy, heads into one of the biggest tests of his career.

This is with his own Democratic-run Congress. When he campaigns for election he will need a good record of domestic achievement to point to.

Congress, under his persistent prodding, has two major achievements to its credit so far this year: (1) A tax cut and (2) A civil rights bill which seems certain of passage.

30 MORE BILLS

But at a news conference this week he said there were about 30 bills he hoped to get through. To do all that Congress will have to work right up until early July, before the Republican convention begins, and then return and probably work until the Democratic convention starts Aug. 24.

He suggested that from now on Congress work six days a week.

DELAYED BY FILIBUSTER

The Senate alone has a mountain of work piled up, the result of its months of debate on the civil rights bill, which it passed last Friday. Everything else got stalled until that job was done.

Johnson, a lot more persistent operator in pushing Congress for what he wants than President Kennedy was, telephones, buttonholes, confers, and otherwise unrelentingly puts the heat on.

But he never, if only because this is his first year in the presidency, came up against the problem in front of him now. He will need all his ingenuity to build his record.

MEDICARE SEEMS DEAD

Already one of his major programs—medical care for the aged—looks like it's probably dead for 1964. The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday voted it down although giving preliminary approval to a 5 per cent boost in Social Security payments.

Now the only hope for medicare seems to lie with the Senate. Even if it should pass there, the House would have to be persuaded to go along. That would require a lot of persuading, perhaps more than Johnson can do.

It will be practically a miracle if it gets through.

OLD ROUTINE

Yet Johnson has had astonishing success so far with another program — foreign aid — in which all the presidents back to and including Harry S. Truman took a heavy beating.

For 16 years this was the routine: A president would ask a certain sum, in the billions, for foreign aid and Congress would chop hundreds of millions or a billion or more off it.

This was so routine it looked like a game: A president would ask far more than he expected to get in order to wind up, when the chopping was over, with about what he figured he could do with in the first place.

ASKED FOR LESS

But Johnson asked for $3.5 billion this year—or $1 billion less than President Kennedy requested in 1963. Kennedy wound up with roughly $1.3 billion knocked off.

Johnson represented his request as a minimum figure and until now the House, which has not completed final action, has appeared willing to give him approximately what he asked with comparatively minor cuts.

The antipoverty program was among the 30 measures Johnson said he wanted action on.

ALLENBERRY TO PLAY COMEDY

David Brubaker will be seen as a Washington influence peddler in Director Richard North Gage's production of the Broadway comedy success, "Born Yesterday," opening at Allenberry Playhouse, Boiling Springs, Monday evening.

"Born Yesterday," which ran for 1,694 consecutive performances on Broadway, is one of the 10 longest-running shows in New York theatrical history.

Brubaker, a drama professor at Dickinson College, Carlisle, has been spending his summer vacations acting at Allenberry for the past 16 years. Prior to going to Allenberry, he was assistant to Gage at the Harrisburg Community Theater.

Mary Harrigan, who scored a hit in the season's opener, "The Irregular Verb to Love," returns to do the Billie Dawn role, which catapulted Judy Holliday to stardom on Broadway in 1946.

A newcomer, Arlen Dean Snyder, will make his Allenberry debut, appearing as Brubaker's cousin and handy man, and Don Draper, Peter Ratray and Russell Bailey are cast in supporting roles.

HARRISBURG NATIVE KILLED IN S. VIET NAM

HARRISBURG (AP)—A young Army pilot who six weeks ago spoke with his pastor about duty was killed in South Viet Nam this week.

He was Capt. Marlin E. McCahan, 28-year-old father of two and a native of Harrisburg.

The pilot's father, Kenneth B. McCahan, was notified Wednesday night that his son died when a plane he was flying on a message-drop mission crashed.

ATTENDED CARSON LONG

Capt. McCahan attended Carson Long Institute in New Bloomfield and graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., in 1959.

His mother, Mrs. Barbara L. McCahan, after hearing of her son's death, left to join his widow, Patricia, and two daughters, ages 3 and 4, in Saugerties, N.Y.

The father said his son had been in Viet Nam about a month. Six weeks ago he was on leave in Harrisburg.

"I HAVE MY DUTY"

His pastor, the Rev. Elias H. Phillips, recalled his recent visit here.

"He looked good, and I felt as if he were my own. I had baptized him and had known him all the way. I wasn't enthused about his going to Viet Nam, I said 'what a messy place that!'"

"But he was in such high spirits—a really splendid young man. And I remember he looked at me and said, 'I have my duty to do.'"

KELSO NEARING MONEY RECORD

NEW YORK (AP)—Kelso, the 7-year-old gelding from Mrs. Richard C. du Pont's Bohemia Stable, appears ready to make his run for a fifth straight Horse-of-the-Year title and top spot among the all-time money winners.

After running two poor races on the West Coast, the son of Your Host-Maid of Flight got back into winning stride with a 1 1/4-length victory in the $15,000 Straight Face at Aqueduct Thursday.

His share of the purse wasn't much, $9,750, but it boosted his total earnings to $1,591,452 and left him only $158,417 back of the leading money winner, Round Table.

More important than the victory, with Ismael Valenzuela in the saddle, Kelso showed he was ready for the big test in the 1 1/4 miles of the $100,000-added Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct July 4. Weights will be announced next week and one of his probable opponents is Quadrangle, the 3-year-old who won the Belmont Stakes.

STABLE FACES TEST TONIGHT

NEW YORK (AP)—One thing boxing observers used to say about Jose Stabile was "Boy, can he take a punch." Now they're not so sure since the Cuban welterweight contender suffered a broken jaw in a gym workout with one Tito Marshall eight months ago.

The 23-year-old Cuban, ranked third among welter contenders and never stopped in 25 pro fights, will have his choppers tested tonight by streaking Vince Shomo of New York in a televised 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

SHOMO RATED FOURTH

Shomo, 24, a former amateur flash who had trouble for a while adjusting to the pro competition, has won five straight and has zoomed to a No. 4 rating. His record is 12-1-1.

Study-Lippincott
Miss Hannah Regina Lippincott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Lippincott, Taneytown R. 1, became the bride of Roy E. Study Jr., son of Mrs. M. 2 BIG RACES ON SATURDAY

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Three-year-olds will be out in force Saturday with Roman Brother and National heading a probable field of eight in the $100,000-added Chicagoan at Arlington Park and 14 pointing for the $50,000 - added Cinema at Hollywood Park.

Roman Brother, winner of the Jersey Derby and runner-up to Quadrangle in the Belmont Stakes after finishing out of the money in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, carries the silks of Louis Wolfson's Harbor View Farm into the 1 1/4 miles of the Chicagoan as the favorite under top weight of 123 pounds.

Under allowance conditions of the race, the hard-striking little colt from Harbor View will give six pounds to R. N. Webster's National, winner of the Ohio Derby last week. He also gives three to Russell L. Reineman's Cap Size and nine to the razor-sharp Dandy K. from Cecil Carmine's stable.

Bendersville's Orioles stopped the win streak of the previously unbeaten Idaville Senators at five Thursday evening at Bendersville 9-1 as Wayne Crum was again the outstanding performer for the winners.

FIRST VICTORY
At Biglerville the Red Legs handed the York Springs Giants a surprise with a 9-1 triumph, the win being the first for the Red Legs after five losses.

Jeff Brown limited the Giants to three hits, one a double by Tanger in the sixth inning. Brown whiffed 11 and walked four. Weiser, first Giants moundsman, gave up eight runs and six hits, striking out two and walking two. Wagner finished in allowing one run, three hits, fanning seven and walking one. Naugle poled a triple for the Red Legs in the first inning.

Score by innings:
Giants 000 001 0-1 3 2
Red Legs 440 010 x-9 9 4
Batteries: Giants, Weiser, D. Wagner and Cline; Red Legs, Brown and Phil Carey.

The Dodgers edged the Arentsville White Sox 7-6 at New Oxford. Each team collected eight hits with the Sox being charged with three errors and the Dodgers with two.

Wagner clouted a homer for the Dodgers in the third inning. Wyckoff hammered a triple for the Sox.

Wagner and Hockensmith pitched for the winners with Topper receiving. Stoner and Bushey shared the mound duties for the Sox and Walde caught.

100 Red Guerrillas Killed By Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—More than 100 Communist guerrillas may have been killed in a major battle with government troops Thursday, reports reaching Saigon indicated today.

The battle took place 60 miles northeast of the capital in the same area where government troops suffered a serious reversal last Friday.

The casualty toll in the latest encounter could not be confirmed immediately. Details were scanty.

Among the 1,710,844 public high school graduates last year, there were 29,190 more girls than boys, reports the U.S. Office of Education.

Gettysburg Little League

The relief pitching of Dave Teeter and the hitting of Bob Smith guided the Elks into third place as they came from behind to defeat Glenn L. Bream 6-3 Thursday evening.

Bob Harner started on the mound for the Elks, but after giving up three scores in the initial frame, Teeter came in to fan nine, walk two and give up four safeties and capture his second win in three decisions. Smith went three for four at the plate and batted in two runs.

Ted Maitland got things rolling with a long home run in the top of the first. However, the Breammen scored all three of their runs in the bottom half of the frame on walks to Tony Strickland and Ron Jacoby, doubles by Art Eyer and Jeff Nace, and an Elk miscue. A double play from Bill Hemler to Ted Maitland ended the inning.

The Elks took advantage of four Bream errors in the third inning to score three times and put the contest on ice. The winners went on to add two security runs in the sixth.

Strickland and Nace paced the loser's attack with a pair of hits each. Jacoby went all the way for his second loss in as many decisions.

Fairfield Little League

An infield error in the bottom of the sixth inning enabled the Cardinals to increase their league lead as they edged past the Pirates 11-10 Thursday evening.

The Pirates, who had trailed throughout most of the ball game, tallied four runs in the top of the final stanza to knot the count at 10-10. Dave Summers then led off for the Cardinals and poked a lon gdouble to deep left-center. Darryl Nagle smashed a grounder to third, but a wild throw on the play enabled Summers to cross the plate with the winning score.

The Cardinals crossed the plate seven times in the first frame to move into what looked like a runaway. However, the Pirates slowly cut the margin during the following five frames. One of the big boosts in the cutting process was Steve Fitez. Fitez blasted two home runs, both coming with brother Bob on base. The two long pokes came in the fifth and sixth frames.

Score by innings:

free in the gym, Stabile was the hottest guy around in the welter set next to champion Emile Griffith and ex-champ Luis Rodriguez. He had won six in a row and boasted a 22-2-1 record.

There was talk, too, of a title fight with Griffith. It still is possible. Stabile will have to win impressively over Shomo and another opponent or two to get back in the running.

FAKED CATCH OF HOME RUN

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—As a high fly hit by Dan Napoleon soared toward the fence Thursday night, evidently bound for home run territory, it was suddenly snared from the air in a spectacular catch—or so it appeared.

But later, outfielder John May of the Binghamton Triplets in the Class A New York-Pennsylvania League admitted he didn't catch the ball after all. He said he went through the gestures, but actually substituted the ball that was hit out of the park, with one he had in his uniform pocket.

May apologized to Auburn Manager Clyde McCullough and explained he was sorry to Binghamton Manager Andy Pafko, who said as far as he was concerned the incident "is closed." Napoleon was credited with the homer.

Auburn won the game, 8-2.

2 Hanover Horses Win At Liberty Bell

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rival Time set a national record for 2-year-old pacers this year while easily winning his heat of the $28,124 Independence Race at Liberty Bell park Thursday night.

Driven by George Sholtz, Rival Time won by almost two lengths in 2:01 4-5. A 1-2 favorite of the 9,407 fans, he is now unbeaten in four starts.

The son of Good Time is partly owned by San Francisco Warriors' basketball star Wilt Chamberlain, who accepted the trophy in the winners' circle.

Toreador Hanover, driven by Johnny Simpson, won the second section of the rich race in 2:03.2. Gee Lee Hanover, with Harold Dancer Jr. at the reins, won the third section in 2:04.2. The race had to be run in three heats because of the field of 35 entries.

STOCKS EDGE UP

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was a shade higher late this afternoon as trading slackened considerably from Thursday's five-million-share rate. Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

American Telephone was still being traded heavily as investors dealt in its new stock, just split 2-for-1. AT&T inched higher.

General Motors held firm in early trading and then moved ahead a full point.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A big inning made out of little hits helped the Charles Indians whitewash the Eastern League leading Springfield Giants Thursday night, 5-0.

The Indians, backed up by strong four-hit pitching from George Culver, scored three of their runs in the fifth inning on two walks, catcher's interference, a bunt single, and a solid two-run scoring hit by Jack Hernandez.

They added two more tallies in the seventh on four singles—three of them never getting out of the infield—and Culver held on to rack up his sixth win against four defeats. Bill Wade (1-8) took the loss.

The Charleston win, along with Reading's 6-2 victory over York, brought the Red Sox to within 2 1/2 games of first place.

The big hit for Reading was a two-run homer by Mike Andrews in the third inning.

John Boyle (4-4) and reliever Mickey Sinks held York to five hits.

MASS RALLY IN CHESTER TO BE HELD TONIGHT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Stanley Branche, head of the Chester Committee for Freedom Now, called a mass rally tonight after expressing disappointment over the Scranton administration's absolving the state police of Negro charges of brutality.

Branche said the rally would be held in Chester at 8 p.m.

Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer told newsmen here Thursday that state police used "reasonable force" but no brutality in helping Chester city police control large crowds of Negroes and whites during demonstrations April 22 and 24. The CCFN has been protesting alleged de facto segregation in Chester schools. "REASONABLE FORCE"

Before meeting with newsmen, Shafer, State Police Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy and Deputy Atty. Gen. Edward Friedman discussed findings of a state police investigation with five others.

"On the basis of the report it was felt that there was no justification for further action with regard to the charges of brutality by state police, as distinguished from the use of reasonable force by the state police," Shafer told newsmen later.

Branche insisted that state police detectives were not competent to investigate this type of charge against members of their own organization.

ASKS IMPORTANT PROBE

In Philadelphia, The Right Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, also expressed concern about "the principle of having the state police investigate the state police."

Bishop DeWitt called on Gov. Scranton to appoint what he termed an impartial committee to investigate the charges of brutality. The church official is a member of the Interfaith Committee for Reconciliation, organized at the height of the racial strife in Chester.

Branche said: "We are definitely are unhappy and we still want an open hearing. We have something to back us up—the bodies of the people that were beaten."

SHAHER RECOMMENDATIONS

Asked if he planned to picket the campaign appearances of Scranton in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination, Branche replied: "There is a strong possibility, even stronger than before."

He said he had a pledge from James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, to supply pickets at the appearances being made by Scranton around the country.

Shafer said that the report did not cover instances of alleged brutality by Chester city police. He also said an FBI report sustained the state police findings.

The lieutenant governor recommended: "Wholehearted cooperation of all citizens in the Chester area with the Greater Chester

Do you know how to be a good patient?

There's more to it than just wanting to be well. If you know how to be a good patient, you can receive even better health care, get more for your money, and make your doctor's job easier.

In a new pamphlet on the subject of "How to Be a Good Patient," the American Medical Association urges that it is important to choose a family physician before illness strikes. Meet him personally, have your medical history on file in his office and schedule periodic physical examinations. Then, should illness strike, you'll know where to turn.

There is a real advantage in going to the doctor's office, rather than insisting that he come to your home. Proper examination, to help the doctor arrive at a diagnosis, can be done much better in the office, where everything is at hand to make it thorough.

In phoning the doctor, when a house call is essential, be prepared to tell him briefly all the facts in the case, the symptoms of illness, temperature and other factors. It is impossible for the doctor to carry with him all of the tools of modern medicine, but if he is told what to expect, he can bring along some of the equipment and medicines Movement." —A review of the state police report between Brandt Cooper-Smith, an official of the Anti-Defamation League, who attended the meeting, and State Police Det. Sgt. Roy Wellendorf, who made the investigation.

—Establishment of a commission in the Chester area including representatives of interested groups "to make certain that persons who have evidence of brutality will have an opportunity to be heard."

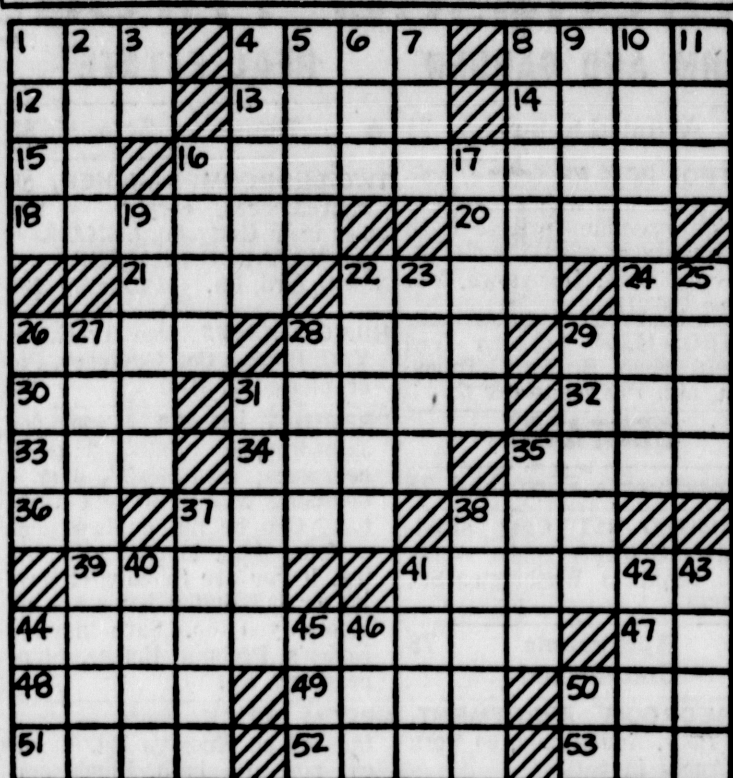

OTHERS PRESENT

Other civil rights representatives attending the meeting were Dr. Felder E. Rouse Jr., Chester CCFN vice chairman; James Williams, Chester, a CCFN member; Prof. Monroe Beardsley of Swarthmore College, chairman of the Delaware County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, and the Rev. Clayton Hewett, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Atonement, Morton.

Representing the Commonwealth in addition to Shafer, Friedman, Wellendorf and Purdy were William Johnson, a governor's aide, and Capt. W. J. Stanton, chief of state police detectives.

City Solicitor Philip A. McMunigal represented the city of Chester.

that might help in your case.

At home or in his office, tell your doctor the whole story. The uncommunicative patient merely makes it more difficult for his doctor to treat him. Have in mind the salient facts about past illnesses, operations, accidents, even when they are years in the past. Have your questions ready, too, and never hesitate to ask the doctor about anything that is puzzling you.

Most patients are embarrassed about discussing the fee when they first go to a doctor. The best thing for both the patient and the physician is to bring up the subject of fees on the first visit. No one should mind a frank discussion of charges.

The patient seeks the doctor's opinion about the state of his health, and he seeks advice on what to do about it. The time and money of both doctor and patient may be wasted if you don't follow the advice. If you decide to stop taking the prescribed pills after a day or two, or if you don't bother to have the prescription filled at all, or if you head for the golf course when the doctor ordered rest, you may be facing even more serious illness later on.

TO GET $6,000 WEEKLY IN NEW BOONE ROLE

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ten years ago, a young Texan without much more to his name than the guitar on his back suddenly found himself famous as Davy Crockett.

His salary for making three one-hour television shows as Davy was $350 per week, to which was added $150 a week for signing away his future rights to the films. In all, he earned about $6,000 as star of one of the greatest successes in television history.

Fess Parker will be drawing approximately $6,000 in his first week as Daniel Boone in the new NBC series produced by 20th Century-Fox.

TIMES CHANGED

Times have changed — and thank heaven, sighed Fess as he relaxed before this week's start of the hour series. His relaxing grounds are impressive: a rambling, tile-roofed hacienda in the higher reaches of hilly Bel-Air.

His talk may still be backwoods, but Fess has cottoned to city ways. "We're still working out a couple of items in the contract," he reported. "One of them has to do with merchandising, and it's mighty complicated. But I'm sure we'll find a solution."

That's for darned sure. If "Daniel Boone" succeeds—and there's a lot of important money riding on its chances—its backers foresee a boom in merchandising products with the Boone imprint. All those unsold Crockett coonskin caps will be on the market again.

That brought up the question: just how different will Boone

The suggestions for good tire wear are easy to follow.

First off: replace tires when damaged or badly worn for safety's sake. Then, for money-saving maintenance:

1. Don't over-inflate your tires. Maintain the proper pounds-per-tire inflation recommended by the manufacturer.
2. Make sure wheels are properly aligned and tires are correctly balanced by periodic inspections.
3. Have tires rotated, along with the spare tire, every 4,000 or 5,000 miles to insure even wear on all tires.
4. Don't allow tires to strike holes, curbstones or other projections which could cause severe damage.
5. Don't make your tires "squeal" when turning, or stopping and starting.

be from Crockett?

"Not very," Parker confessed. "This show probably wouldn't be going on the air if NBC hadn't broadcast the three Crockett films at the end of last summer. They created such a sensation all over again that a new series was suggested."
